

TEXACO MOTOR OIL

Clean, clear, full-bodied. Watch the golden color when it is poured into your motor. It's unmistakable.

Watch the results also. You can't mistake them, either: No knocks, because you'll have no hard carbon and no pre-ignition. Surplus power, because your piston rings will seal the compression and your valves will be kept free. Perfect, regular firing, because your spark-plugs will be clean.

Light, medium, heavy and extra-heavy, it fits all cars and all conditions.

Drain out all the old oil in your crank-case. Refill with Texaco Motor Oil, and start out with a car that will deliver all the power and life its maker built into it.

STATES TO BE FREE IN HEALTH WORK

Federal Aid Promised, But Interference Banned, Says Treasury Official.

Convinced that the federal government had gone too far in encroaching upon the prerogatives of the state and local authorities, assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Clifford told state and territorial health authorities in annual conference at the Red Cross building today the "national government should never do anything that local governments can do."

"I think we've gone entirely too far," said Col. Clifford. "It is time to stop and take stock, to see where we are going. There is too much burden on the national government."

I have a strong feeling that we should be jealous of our local rights, that we should not allow the national government to come in and do our own public health work, our police work."

The state health officers were told that the public health service would be ready as "a strong central, expert, scientific organization to help you in every way."

Col. Clifford said, had two principal purposes—to prevent contagion entering the country, through the immigrant, and to guard interstate health—but that it would adopt the policy of non-interference in the affairs of the state health authorities, unless appealed to for conference of help.

State Health Officer Welsh of Alabama, responding for the assembled doctors, welcomed the suggestion of Col. Clifford and said the health authorities deeply appreciated the new attitude taken.

The work of the public health service in caring for veterans of the war was declared by Col. Clifford to be "one of the notable achievements" in the history of the organization.

Now that the veterans had been turned over to the Veterans' Bureau, the assistant secretary said, more attention could be devoted toward safeguarding the health of the nation.

Arlington county, in Virginia, was yesterday praised as one of the foremost counties in the country in advancement of rural health work, a trip to Arlington county courthouse, being made by many of the officers to witness a demonstration of the model health unit and child welfare unit, conducted there by Dr. J. W. Cox, county health officer.

LA FOLLETTE HOLDS RICH ENSLAVE U. S.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 18.—When a government "permits privileged wealth in combination, to control production and prices to destroy free markets it becomes the sponsor of industrial and economic slavery and betrays the heritage of liberty and equality," Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin declared in an address last night before the Norwegian National League.

"Organized wealth, stronger than the government itself, has acquired a monopoly control of the natural resources of our country—iron, coal, copper, oil and timber," he asserted. "It controls credit, transportation and markets and arbitrarily fixes the prices of everything we buy and everything we sell."

Newberry Precedence.
"When the majority of the Senate confirmed the election of Truman H. Newberry, in whose behalf, by his own confession, $18,000 was expended to gain his nomination, the door was opened to unlimited use of money to control elections."

"You can have no honest representative government if seats in Congress can be bought and sold."

"Iron and steel lie at the base of every human activity," the senator continued, and added that the men "who control this basic commodity control the nation." Referring to the Senate resolution calling on the Attorney General to forestall the merger of seven large steel corporations, he charged that the steel interests are planning to bring the other half of the industry under one consolidated control after having gained control of half of it twenty years ago.

End of Gary Dinners.
"Gary dinners will then no longer be necessary," he said. "Instead the heads of the two great corporations will be able to sit down at a lunch table and without fear of detection fix the price of every pound of steel sold in the United States."

The Sherman anti-trust law, he said, provided a simple and effective measure to curb such practices.

STRONG BICEPS AND LAGE

The love for correctness in dress is not a sign of strength, but neither is it a sign of weakness. The plain, blunt man who prides himself in his unvarnished commonness will do well to study the lives of Washington, Gladstone and other great leaders. The same general who showed his mettle at Valley Forge, was the same gentleman who could grace a salon with fastidious propriety.

The clothes of a gentleman today are without foppish affectation. They do have grace and elegance. But under this raiment beat hearts as bold, biceps as sinewy, as any of earlier times. In Hirsch, Wickwire Clothes you will find a sleek restraint and quiet dignity befitting a gentleman. That they are ready-to-wear is an added virtue. You will be pleased to learn how moderate they are in price.
